To Whom it May Concern,

I am a registered psychologist and accredited naturopath living in Perth, Australia. I have been practicing as a health professional for 20 years. I began my training in Neuromodulation Technique 2 years ago. Recently, because I have found the technique so successful, I have selected it as my main treatment modality.

My patients present with a whole range of psychological and physical illness including manic depression, chronic fatigue, multiple sclerosis, migraines, colitis and numerous others. Neuromodulation Technique as taught by Dr. Leslie Feinberg in seminars and written materials, in my experience, works as disclosed and taught in those materials. It has proven itself extremely useful in treating patients.

Kind regards,

Cory Sea
